

Tryptophan count is fixed within lineages

One point per species (25 largest genera). Each genus occupies a single count.
Genera at low counts carry NirK far more often.

